About the Program:

Research has been an important tool for creating and enhancing the knowledge and improving the quality of human life in this scientific world. This Program is aimed to create an awareness of research and research process in conducting qualitative and quantitative studies in engineering, and to publish papers in peer reviewed scholarly journals. This FDP is conducted to bring research scholars and resource faculty on to a single platform for prioritizing research needs and to build a successful scientific career. This Program is also helpful for scholars under taking research methodology as one of the subject in their pre Ph.D, examinations.

As per recent UGC & AICTE norms for promotions from one cadre to higher @ Engineering Colleges, Ph.D become mandatory for all the disciplines of faculty. Keeping this in view the Dept. of Mechanical Engineering & Automobile Engineering, Eswar College of Engineering is organizing Faculty Development Program on “Research Methodology & Technical Paper Writing” From Dt: 18-09-2017 to 23-09-2017.
